A LARGE BAG CONTRACT.

The Sugar Trust Will Abolish the Use of Barrels.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—[Special]—

The sugar trust has contracted for five million bags to take the place of barrels for the shipment of refined sugars.

The bags will be delivered in New York, New Orleans and Boston, as well as in Philadelphia. This is by far the greatest bag contract ever made in the United States. The trust's reason for the change from barrel to bag is that the bag costs and weighs considerably less than its old-time competitor. The barrel's successor is a burlap bag with a light muslin bag inside and its weight is only a pound and a half, while that of the barrel is twenty-three pounds.

This is the worst blow that the local paper industry has ever experienced, and almost wipes out that business in Philadelphia. Flour now goes to Europe in bags and is retailed in the same way.

Sugars brought here from the West Indies and Hamburg come exclusively in bags, which, after being cleaned, are used up for paper stock. The speckles were the first to introduce the bag business in the East.

Purchase of Silver.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—[Special]—

Offers of silver to the Treasury Department aggregated 1,301,000 ounces and the amount purchased was 797,000 at

PROGRESS OF THE CAMPAIGN.

What the Local Politicians Are Doing.

They Are Working Hard for the Interest of Their Respective Parties—The Republican Tariff League Will Meet To-night—Republicans Endeavoring to Get Out Their Full Strength—The Democratic Leaders Reduce Their Estimates.

The leaders of both Democrats and Republicans are putting in full time in the interest of their respective parties. The Republican Tariff League will meet to-night in the Yager Building, on Campbell avenue. The meeting will be addressed by several local spell-binders, and the business end of the campaign will not be neglected for a little speech making. The meeting will be as usual, with closed doors, except to those who have the Republican pass-word. There seems to be no great effort to make converts from the Democratic party, but Republican leaders are devoting themselves to the task of getting out their full strength.

The Democrats are making a canvass of the voters of the city and unless they are deceived as to the political faith of many of the voters they will know by Saturday night about what their majority will be in the city. One result of this investigation is a considerable decrease in the majority by which they have claimed the city. It is said that the leaders are greatly surprised at the number of white Republicans they have already discovered in the city generally and especially in the Second ward. Some of those who were claiming 1,000 majority Saturday night after the registration books closed, and who were willing to bet that the majority would be 650 now estimate the majority at 500 to 700.

Two prominent citizens, one a merchant and the other a contractor, of this city, each wagered $50 yesterday on the result of the election in this city next Tuesday. The merchant claims that Cleveland's majority will be 500, and an additional sum of $25 was bet that the State would go Democratic by 5,000 majority.

WILL ERECT A FURNACE.

The Pennsylvania Zinc and Iron Company

Will Be in Operation This Winter.

The Pennsylvania Zinc and Iron Company has decided to erect a furnace during the coming winter on the property of the Columbia Land Company, west of this city. The work will begin about the last of January or the first of February and it is expected that the plant will be in operation in the early spring.

It will have a capacity of ten tons of oxide of zinc per day, will employ fifty or sixty men, partly skilled. The plant will be similar to the Washington Zinc Works at Lynchburg, but larger. The company owns zinc and iron mines near Ivanhoe. An ore plant for washing and shipping is now nearing completion at the mines. It will soon be in operation and will have a capacity of 200 to 300 tons of ore daily.

A party of Pennsylvania capitalists interested in the enterprise are now in the city. They have just returned from Ivanhoe, where they went to inspect the company's mines and works.

H. C. Masser is president of the company, John H. Bartlett, vice-president and general manager, and Horace M. Engle, secretary and treasurer.

Old papers for the next week at 10 cents per hundred.

Sequel of the Ballot Box Stuffing.

TRENTON, Nov. 2.—[Special]—Robert S. Davis, the leader of the Hudson County Democracy and warden of the penitentiary, indicted by the United States grand jury for conspiracy and subordination of perjury, was arraigned this afternoon. He pleaded not guilty and gave a $5,000 bond for his appearance on November 14. The allegation is that before the incarceration in the State prison of the men convicted of stuffing ballot boxes he kept them in his private apartments in the jail building one night in order that their counsel might prepare affidavits that they were prisoners, pending action on the writ applied for.

Not a Long Strike.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—[Special]—The strike of the electric wire men is not assuming very large proportions. This morning there were only about 225 men idle, and those were members of the Wiremen's Union.

Mr. Skinner's Condition.

There was a slight change for the better in the condition of ex-Councilman J. H. Skinner, about nine o'clock last night and he was resting quietly at two o'clock this morning when a Times reporter called at his residence. Dr. Gale remained with his patient all night, but retired for a few hours' rest at midnight. The physicians said at a late hour that Mr. Skinner was better but was not out of danger. However, they have some hopes for his recovery.

McKinley Closes His Campaign.

SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 2.—[Special]—Governor McKinley, after coming through the counties of Northeastern Pennsylvania and Binghamton and making addresses at Towanda, Tunkhannock and Taylorville, finished his campaign here to-night. A large crowd of farmers listened to his address at Tunkhannock and at Taylorville 2,000 miners. The president of the Scranton board of trade presented McKinley.

They Will Not Withdraw.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 2.—[Special]—The Democratic electors refuse to withdraw, although requested so to do by both national and State committees.

A RAILROAD DISASTER.

Many People Killed in a Collision in England.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—[Special]—An appalling railway accident occurred early this morning in Thirsk, in Yorkshire, by which twenty persons were killed and a large number injured. The express train which leaves Edinburgh every evening for London was running at full speed as it approached Thirsk, when ahead of it appeared a heavy laden goods train. The engineer of the express train reversed his engine and put on brakes, but the momentum of the heavy express was too great, and it dashed into the goods train, making a most terrible wreck. Added to the horror the carriages caught on fire and were destroyed. A large number of persons from nearby places were soon at the scene and did everything possible to extricate the dead and injured.

The burning cars greatly hampered their efforts, but had it not been for their bravery the loss of life would have been much greater. The scene at the wreck was pitiable. Some of the bodies were taken out of the debris burned beyond all resemblance of humanity. The clothing has been destroyed, and in some cases the jewelry worn was melted by the intense heat. This will render the identification extremely difficult, if not altogether impossible. The wrecking train was dispatched to the scene as soon as the fact of the disaster became known. A number of physicians were carried to the wreck, and they at once devoted themselves to relieving the sufferings of the injured.

AN INDIAN OUTBREAK POSSIBLE.

Black Horse, Chief of the Navajos, Leader of the Movement.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 2.—[Special]—A report reached this city late last night that a very serious outbreak was threatened among the Navajos. Black Horse, a well-known chief, who controls a large number of young bucks in the tribe and who has always sought to create a disturbance, is said to have put himself at the head of his faction, occupying the Carrazon mountains, and they have sworn war and extermination upon any people that attempt to enter these mountains.

No details could be ascertained at the late hour the news reached here, but it is certain that all the cavalry stationed at Fort Wingate left at an early hour this morning on a forced march for Camp Defiance. Trouble of a serious nature is manifestly anticipated.

Villeval Gets Two Years.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 2.—[Special]—Villeval, the publisher of the Journal La Misere, was today sentenced to two years imprisonment for printing an anarchist article. While court was adjourning Villeval made his escape from the keepers and has not been recaptured. When sentence was passed the anarchists in the courtroom hissed the judge, and when the jurors left the courtroom Villeval's sympathizer hustled them in a dangerous manner. Police intervened to protect the jurors.

Threw Vitrol on Her Husband.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 2.—[Special]—The body of Peter Shields, night watchman in the dye house of Schweigart & Co., was found in the office this a. m. badly burned. It is supposed his wife threw vitrol over the body and limbs, which were terribly burned by acid. Mrs. Shields was arrested. It is supposed that Shields fell on a steam pipe, but Mrs. Shields will have to explain why she threw the vitrol.

Strike Threatened in New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 2.—[Special]—New Orleans is on the verge of a general strike, which will affect every branch of industry. Seven thousand men will go out if the demand for increased wages, fewer hours of work and the employment of none but union men are not complied with. The municipal authorities are friendly to the strikers.

Mrs. Deacon's Suit Dismissed.

PARIS, Nov. 2.—[Special]—The suit for divorce brought by Mrs. Deacon for alleged cruelty was dismissed by the tribunal of the Seine to-day. The presiding judge severely scored Mrs. Deacon for bringing the suit on frivolous grounds while she was under a grave charge. The court ordered that the eldest child be given to Deacon.

A Cotton Buyer Arrested.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 2.—[Special]—Thomas A. Gleason, a cotton buyer, was arrested for obtaining from $5,000 to $15,000 from the Whitney National Bank on forged cotton press receipts and fraudulent insurance policies. Gleason has been in the cotton business here for fifteen years and is known throughout the country.

Money For Republican Use.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—[Special]—The World says: The bundle collected from protected manufacturers of Pennsylvania reached $1,000,000. Frick, a paper says, paid $250,000. The World also says that the sugar trust will contribute $100,000 as part payment for free raw sugar.

Trying to Adjust the Dispute.

MANCHESTER, Nov. 2.—[Special]—The board of conciliation, consisting of six directors of the chamber of commerce and six members of the trades' council, is making another effort to adjust the dispute between the cotton spinners and their employers.

Instructed to Vote for Weaver.

HURON, S. D., Nov. 2.—[Special]—The Democrats are instructed to vote for General Weaver and forsake the Democratic ticket. The movement has created some uneasiness in Republican circles, for if the Democrats follow the instructions the State is lost to Harrison.

HILL MAKES ANOTHER SPEECH.

He Addresses a Large Crowd at Port Jervis, N. Y.

"The Question of Federal Taxation is the Dominant Issue of the Campaign," Says the Senator—He Describes the Difference Between the Two Parties. The Present Tariff Law Recedes His Attention—The Force Bill is Also Alluded To.

PORT JERVIS, N. Y., Nov. 2.—[Special]—Senator David B. Hill spoke at the opera house here this afternoon to a large audience. He said: "The question of Federal taxation is the dominant issue of the campaign; the power to levy taxes is a despotic but necessary power in every well organized government. The difference between the two parties may be briefly defined as follows: The Democratic party believes in the strict construction of the Federal constitution; the Republican party believes in a loose construction of that instrument. The Republicans are willing to confer every possible power upon the government. The Democrats are for confining the government to its strict constitutional limits. The Republicans say that taxes should be levied for necessary expenses of the government. There we agree with them. They contend further that the taxing power should be used to foster private industries.

"The tariff of 1883 put a surplus of one hundred millions in the treasury. The Democratic party, holding this to be a menace to liberty and a temptation to corruption, said the tariff must be revised and the revenue limited to necessary expenses. We believe in tariff for revenue, with incidental protection. This has always been the position of the Democratic party. Tariffs which create unnecessary revenue are unconstitutional.

"I admit that the first Congress enacted a revenue bill with a protection preamble. Let the Republicans make the most of it. Congress was coerced into the passage of this bill by the importunities of selfish Pennsylvania, always on the lookout for her own interests. The succeeding Congress, however, recognizing the danger of this precedent, and to guard against future violations of the constitution of the same kind, enacted an amendment providing that all powers not expressly granted to the general government were reserved to the States. As the federation has triumphed in the bill under discussion the Democracy triumphed in the amendment.

"All the tariff bills passed since that time have been passed as revenue bills without the recital of the protective intent. Let the Republicans be candid and throw off all disguise and pass a bill solely and expressly for protection, something like this:

"Whereas no revenue is needed, and whereas, certain private industries need protection, therefore, we authorize such and such duties."

"Such a bill would put the constitutionality of protection, pure and simple, to the test. Is there any doubt that the United States Supreme Court would pronounce it unconstitutional?

"This cry for protection is a growing evil. Until of late it has always been deemed a temporary necessity to encourage infant industries. It is now time for this to cease. In all my travels I have not found that monstrosity, that man whose wages have been increased by the McKinley bill. Wages are higher here than in Europe because of the superior skill and intelligence of our artisans and of our trade organizations. I challenge our Republican friends to show one single manufactured article on which duty enough was not left by the Mills bill to represent the difference between American and foreign labor. What more can a reasonable protectionist ask?"

The Senator read from the free list of the McKinley bill and argued that the placing on the free list of articles mentioned did not benefit the masses. He said that tariff on farm products is a mockery. It does the farmer no good. The Democrats propose not free trade, but moderate tariff revision. The Senator made only a brief allusion to the force bill. He left on the 5:30 train for Binghamton.

Old papers for the next week at 10 cents per hundred.

American Pig Iron Shipped to England.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—[Special]—It was given out at the Republican State headquarters to-night as evidence of the beneficial effect of the McKinley law that the White Star line steamer, Tauric, which left for England to-day, has aboard 200 tons of American pig iron for Derby, England, the first shipment of American pig iron ever made to England.

Their Wages Reduced.

CHATTANOOGA, Nov. 2.—[Special]—The Dayton Coal and Iron Company, operating blast furnaces and coal mines, at Dayton, Tenn., gave notice to-day of a five per cent. reduction in wages, being a reduction of fifteen per cent. since January 1. It effects five hundred men.

Reid and Depew Speak.

BELMONT, N. Y., Nov. 2.—[Special]—Fully 10,000 people listened to Reid and Depew expound Republican doctrines here to-day. Depew predicted a grand victory for Harrison because the country is more prosperous than ever before. Reid's speech was devoted mainly to the tariff.

CHARLESTON'S GALA WEEK.

The City Crowded With Visitors, All of Whom Are Having a Good Time.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 2.—[Special]—When it is remembered that Charleston has but sixty thousand inhabitants, and half of them colored, the significance of the gala week and the arrival of fifteen thousand visitors in three days will be appreciated. All the incoming trains and steamboats are filled with visitors. The attractions are numerous and novel, and a spirit of satisfaction with ourselves and good will toward all the world reigns supreme.

"Old glory," in every shape and form, swings from roofs and windows, or used as bandeaux ornaments. It is on the front of all buildings and many stores and residences, and nearly every mule, wagon, drag and horse car is carrying stars and stripes.

The officers of the Dolphin and Vesuvius, after hunting the swamps of Berkeley county, carried aboard a splendid buck yesterday and will try again to-morrow. Cake and wire walking, Venetian display on Colonial lake at night, Cherokee Indians playing lacrosse and first-class attractions at two theaters have all amused and entertained the visitors.

To-day was devoted to the meet of the wheelman of the South Atlantic States under the auspices of the L. A. W. In the procession to-night there were upwards of 500 bicycles.

THE REGISTRAR WAS ARRESTED.

R. G. Reid, of Weldon, Bound Over to the Federal Court.

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 2.—[Special]—Friday last the federal supervisors of election applied to R. G. Reid, State registrar at Weldon, for a copy of the registration books. The registration not being closed Reid made the point that the registration was not finished, but offered to allow a copy to be made if Chief Supervisor Shaffer, at Raleigh, said so. On these facts Shaffer ordered the arrest of Reid, and on a hearing bound Reid over to the federal court, in a bond of one thousand dollars.

Reid has brought suit against Shaffer for ten thousand dollars damages in the State court. The attorney-general of the State and other lawyers hold that under section 3029, United States revised statutes, the federal supervisor had no right to demand a copy of the registration books.

The Monetary Conference.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 2.—[Special]—The Belgian delegates to the international monetary conference, which will meet here November 23, include three monetarists, Senator Weber, Superintendent Sainctelette, of the Belgian mint, and Montefiore Levy, a banker, and one bimetalist, Allard, director of the mint. In the absence of Deernaert, the prime minister and minister of finance, who ought to preside at the conference, but who pleads a pressure of business as an excuse for not presiding, an American representative, it is thought, should preside over the conference.

Old papers for the next week at 10 cents per hundred.

Secretary Foster in Ohio.

BELLAIRE, Ohio, Nov. 2.—[Special]—A large audience listened to the speech of Secretary of the Treasury John Foster to-night. The Secretary devoted his attention chiefly to the tariff and "wild cat" money.

THE SITUATION IN NEW YORK.

Republicans and Democrats Are Both Confident of Success.

The Leaders of Each Party Are Claiming Fraud—Indications Point to a Lively Time on Election Day—Democrats Estimate Their Majority in New York Between 30,000 and 50,000—Republicans Laugh at This Figure But Do Not Give Any of Their Own.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—[Special]—The Democratic chiefs, Whitney, Harrity et al; were around early and at work. The Western branch at Chicago telegraphed the following: "One hundred thousand dollars, it has been definitely ascertained, have been received here from the Frick float fund for use in Chicago in the effort to save Illinois to the Republicans.

At the Republican State headquarters there is considerable indignation over the proclamation issued yesterday by Lieutenant Governor Sheehan, advising the Democrats to stand upon their rights and not allow the federal election inspectors within the guard rail of the polling places or in any way to interfere with the voters.

The opinion is expressed that Sheehan had no right to encourage a conflict between the State and federal authorities.

The official Democratic committee gave it out that as a result of the conference with the county leaders they were able to state that Cleveland and Stevenson would carry the State by from 30,000 to 50,000. The Republicans laughed at this. Chairman Hackett said:

"It is too absurd to talk about. We have made a careful canvass and are prepared to say that we will carry the State, but do not claim any such figures."

Chairman Carter again denied that Frick or the Carnegie Company had contributed to the Republican campaign fund. Nevertheless the story was reported at Democratic headquarters. It was said that during Frick's visit here he put money in the central campaign fund.

Chairman Carter denounces this as a Democratic attempt to trade upon the workingmen's prejudices against Frick because of the Homestead troubles.

A stimulus was given the betting to-day but still no large wagers were made. The most spirited betting was on the result in the State, numerous wagers being made that Cleveland will carry it, $1,000 to $800 being offered.

Dave Martin has $50,000 to bet at odds on the general result. Colonel Swords announced that he would be at the Hoffman House to-night with $50,000 to post on Harrison.</
